Project Story: Park Road Play Area in Witney had become a very tired, run-down space that had also been closed for a long time due to equipment failure. The budget to rejuvenate this play area was limited, however, Proludic worked alongside the Council to access the available funding and provide a newly refurbished playground. One that offered challenge, inclusivity and a variety of play values for all ages and abilities.

During the refurbishment, the client decided to retain a couple of existing pieces of equipment. The Proludic equipment that was chosen complemented both the older equipment and the surroundings. Steel and Robinia wood units were primarily used to achieve this in a cohesive design.

Proludic had worked with Witney Town Council in the past on a multi-site project. This client was so impressed with the company's creativity, product portfolio and the outstanding customer service they received, (both during the installation and after completion), that they were delighted to work in partnership with Proludic again!

« We would use Proludic again and Annabel Brown (their Area Manager) was fantastic throughout. »
