Project Story: This playpark was installed as part of an ongoing partnership with Amey Defence Services to improve the accommodation and facilities at military bases nationally. Proludic is very in tune with this client's needs as we have installed over £1,000,000 of play parks for them over the past 3 years and have a partnership history of over 10 years.

The client (Amey Defence Services) wanted to introduce a natural play space for nearby military families at RAF High Wycombe. The site is set within a tree-enclosed area at the end of a cul-de-sac and the use of Origin' equipment ensures the play area sits aesthetically within its' location.

Our use of Origin' equipment and a natural colour palette for the wetpour surfacing gave this site a beautifully soft yet durable character. The range of equipment used ensures there are opportunities to climb, slide, swing and spin - something for all children to enjoy playing on. The Origin' Multiplay Unit (J4947) is the centrepiece of the site which creates an autumnal feel with the green and brown colour variation of the equipment against the surfacing.

The installation was delivered on time and within budget. A comprehensive tree protection management plan ensured that existing tree roots were protected throughout the installation phase. The creation of tree pits around existing trees opened up irrigation to support tree growth.

« It has been a pleasure to work in partnership with Amey Defence Services over the past 10 years ensuring we provide a consistent and reliable service for the implementation of their playpark programme. »
